INTEMPERANCE AT THE SOL-DIERS' HOME.

Both in Ohio and in this state the question of what shall be done with the intemperate old soldiers who are inmates of the National Soldiers' Home, has been a perplexing one. The question of adopting probibition at the Home has been discussed, but it has not been adopted at any of the Soldiers' Homes in the United States. In the discussion of the question as it effects the Home located near Milwaukee the Evening Wisconsin says:

Home are to be classed intemperate?" was another question asked during the inspection of Sunday last; and the secretary answered, "One third." One third of the diseases treated in the Home bospital, in the conservative and professional language of the doctors, are also the result of "over stimulation"; and nearly one third of all the Home veterans who die hasten death by drunkenness.

One would suppose that when onethird of the veterans who die at the National flomes, die of too much liquor, it would be difficult to provide a remedy, and that the remedy would be to cut off the supply of liquor completely. But it do to the firm by Mr. Sharp and Mr. Fosis argued that this cannot be done. bay, and was elaborated by them. General Sharpe, governor of the Milwaukee Home, is opposed to the establishment of a saloon on the Home premises, but likely the managers wil overrule him and give the veterans the saloon. This is a very strange commentary on the character of the American soldier. It is an imputation that the veterans of the late war are so addicted to drink that they cannot be reformed and that therefore the saloon be a necessary part of the National

It is true this is not a question of sentiment. It is a question of duty and humanity to the old soldiers who are maimed and aged, and who have to depend upon the generosity of the government for support. But that orroumstances shall make the salloon a necessary part of a soldiers' home, is something that the public will deeply regret.

HE DOES NOT KNOW.

Burial of animosity is not a burial of loyalty. The events of the last week teach that the Nation knows the difference. If it is a painful and humiliating thing to have a president who does no know that rebellion was a crime, and that the Union cause was grand and Loly, the heart of every American may thrill with joy at the proof that the Nation knows. Twenty years of gush and twaddle, twen ty years of shallow pretence that beaten rebels have as much right to be proud of their struggle as victorious lovalists, twenty years of shameful yielding to the Nation consciousness that loyalty was right and that treason was a orime. Forgetting is not forgiving. Indeed he who forgets caunot forgive. The man who thinks lighly of the crime, is ignorant jof its wrongfulness, has forgotten or never knew its horrible consequences—that man is not capable of forgiving. President Cleveland neapolis 10, Des Moines 18; St. Paul 4, La has taken pains to show that he is such a man. The selection of unpardoned rebels, in all other respects unfit, for high posts of honor and trust, the conspicuors rewarding of men whose part in the great crime had been most offensivethese things may be ascribed, if his friends please, to the malignant zeal of meidious, and the sufferer himself is the disloyal associates who want to place the most unconscious of its approach. gray above the blue. But it is enough that the president himself, by his own acts, proves that he does not know and therefore is not one that can forgive. He is the measurement of the most alarming symptoms of this dread disease is, in fact, the meradicable hope, which lurks in the heart of the victim, preventing him from taking time-tweeting and the measurement. does not know that treason was a crime. or he never would have consented in any moment of thoughtlessness, to kindle Golden Medical Discovery has effected a anew the affections and the pride of complete cure. traitors by the return of captured flags. He does not know that the cause for which Union soldiers risked lives and poured precious blood was the noblest and the most sacred cause for which a nation ever fought, or he would not have consented to itsust the horses living and the herois dean by returning the flage they captured.

What a commontary it is on the felection of 1881, that a free nation, whose suppression of a slave-holders' rebellion is the grandest thing in all its history, contrived to choose a president who does not know the difference between the flag of freedom and justice and the flag of treason and slavery. He does not know even now, and, in his pitful letter revoking the order given, intimates that it would have been right and pruse worthy and eminentl, patriotic to return the captured flags, if the law permitted, and even suggests that congress may make it lawful to return them. Mementoes of as foul a orume as any in human history, proof where they now rest that the crime met punishment, those flags he would send to be cherished as emblems of heroism by states which now profess to be loyal, there to teach the ieseon that valor for treason's cause, devotion to slavery's wreck of a chicago train the kentucky desperadoes short by a posse. cause, are worth the affection and honor of a new generation. That is the kind of a president given to the nation by the "holier-than-thou" voters of 1884.

The thanks of loyal millions belong to him, as to Jefferson Davis for many ut terances showing the unchanged spirit of disloyalty. It was well to be reminded, from time to time, that there lived at the south men who thought and feltas Davis spoke. It is well to be reminded now that the Northern Lan who cared nothing for the loyal cruse in 1861 is the man who in 1887 does not know the difference between the flag of freedom and the flag of slavery; that there are in northern states certain men. called democrate, who "What proportion of the men in the have never learned that treason was a crime; and that these men, if trusted with as another question asked during the power, use it to foster a mawkish sympathy for beaten traitors, and a sneering hatred for the steadfast localty which remembers with reverent gratitude the noble deeds of men who put slavery, treason and their flag into the last ditch. -New York Tribune.

> The Second Chicago Trial. Chicago, June 23.—Commissioners Klehm and Oliver and ex-Commissioner Van Pelt were the only ones of the indicted parties in No. 1038 of the "boodle" trials present when that case was called for trial in Judge Tuloy's room Wednesday. The State announced itself ready for trial. Dan Muun of counsel for the defense, said that potitions had been filed by many of the defendants asking for changues of venue, but before they would deal with that question he had another anotion to enter this morning. It was a motion under the statute to dismiss the presention on the ground that three terms of the court had elapsed since the indictment was found, and asked till

> Thursday to file affidavits in support. This was denied, and after a wrangle both sides then agreed to have Judge Jamieson conduct the trial, and accordingly a change of venue was granted to his court. The State will furnish a bill of particulars Monday, and the hearing will be begun as soon after Several Western People Badly Injured-Cyclone-Casualties.

OAKLAND, Md., June 23.—The Chicago express and mail was wrecked at Snowy Creok curve, about eight miles west of this place, dnesday. An unknown tramp who was riding between the tender and mail-car was impaled on the bumper of the mail-car, and with it raised to a height of ten feet, and his body hung suspended until taken down.

The wounded were as follows;
William H. Willy, postal clerk of Baltimore; cut about the head and ankle sprained.
Harry Worrunscrox, postal clerk of Terra Alm, W. Va.; hip bruised.
James Donner, postal clerk; cut about the bead. W. C. Hess of Mapleton, Iown; slight lacera-

Mr. CUMMINGS, side injured.

The accident was caused by a broken rail.

The engine passed safely over the spot, but the mail-car left the track and went crashing down a steep embankment, plowing up stumps and rocks. After the car left the tracks it rolled thirty or forty feet, and at last settled upon its side. The baggage and other curs composing the train shot past the lace where the mail left the track, and then the baggage-car pitched down the bank, fol-lowed by the passenger conches. The pas-sengers on the wrecked train were transferred and resumed their journey.

A Cyclone in Virginia.
Petersburg, Va., June 23.—Intelligence has reached here of a destructive cyclone, which passed through the counties of Nottoway and Amelia, this State. It extended over an area of fifteen miles. The wind blow with torrible force, and such a storm has not been witnessed for more than half a century in that section of Virginia. Barns and granaries were blown down, houses were unroofed, fences were leveled, and trees which had stood the storms of years were torn up by their roots. The crops were blown down and in some instances ruined. The loss will be considerable, In Dinwiddie county the storm was also very severe, and the crops were badly cut by a heavy fall of hall which accompanied it. A heavy story visited Lynchburg last night, blowing down trees and fencing and doing other damage. The damage in the country is thought to be heavy.

Expensive Rallway Accident. SEDALIA, Mo., June 23.—An accident entailing a loss of over $50,000 occurred last alght on the Missourl Pacific railway near Otterville, thirteen miles east of this city. A west-bound freight train, consisting of an engine and sixteen cars, was derailed owing to a defective whool, and the cars were piled up promiscuously. A car filled with gasoline took fire, and the flames spread to the entire pile of debris. The fire department of this city was sent to the scene on a special train, and made the run of thirteen miles in seventeen min-utes. Ten minutes later water was playing on the flames, but too late to save anything. and the sixteen cars and contents were almost entirely consumed. Among the freight were four dummy engines for the clevated railroad in Kansas City, and three traction engines, all of which were more or less damaged.

Fierce Fire in an Illinois Town. Wilmington, Ill., June 23.—A fierce and destructive fire occurred here Wednesday afternoon, wiping out the Chicage & Alton depot and freight house, the large clevator of W. H. Odell, which contained about two thousand bushels of corn, besides other grain; the large warehouse of W. P. Ray, the old City Hotel, which was occupied by James Hollowell and family; a number of small buildings, and several freight cars loaded with coal and merchandise. About fifty fat hogs, belonging to Ray & O'Keefe, were also burned. The fire was first discovered about 2 o'clock in the warehouse of W. P. Ray, and is supposed to have caught from a passing engine. A very high wind was blowing, but the fire was confined to the buildings menitored. The loss is estimated at $50.000 with tioned. The loss is estimated at $50,000, with

Killed by the Wind.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 23.—A violent storm of wind and rain broke over this city at 13:40 o'clock Wednesday morning and raged furiously for half an hour, unroofing buildings, leveling chinneys, uproofing and buildings, leveling chimneys, uprooting and twisting off trees, and doing many thousand dollars of damage in various ways. At Bancroft's Banks on the Brandywine, just beyond the city limits, a big oal: tree, uprooted, fell on a double frame dwelling, crushing in the roof and killing three of the occupants, Mrs. James Noble, Mrs. George Doran, and Mrs. Doran's little boy. Mr. Noble was gotten out alive but badly hurt. Mrs. Noble's 2-monti-cold buby, in bed with its mother, was extricated from the crushed timbers, and may live.

SHOT BY A POSSE.

Craig Tolliver and Bis Gang Will Ter-rorize Rowan County No More -Criminal News.

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., June 23.—A rumor has reached this place that Craig Tolliver, the noted desperado, and his two brothers were killed at Morehead Wednesorothers were killed at Morehead Wednes-day morning in a general fight between the factions. It is also thought that the fighting is still in progress. Tolliver was notified recently by the friends of the two Logan boys, lately killed, that he must leave the country or take the consequences of his deeds.

LATER-Details of the killing of the Tolli-LATER—Details of the killing of the Tolliver boys are just at hand. It appears that there had for a long time been ill-feeling between Dr. Logan's family and the Tolliver gang. At the last election Tolliver was elected Judge, less than fifty votes having been cast, the murderous ruflians preventing the citizens from voting. Shortly afterward Tolliver proposeded to mark the Logan boys. Tolliver proceeded to arrest the Logan boys for some alleged offense, and shot them both, claiming to have done so in self-defense, and because the boys resisted what they know was an unwarrantable interference with their liberty. Ever since then excitement has been on the increase, until the sheriff of Rowan county went quietly to work determined to make a last desperate effort to arrest Craig Tolliver and bring him to justice. He organized a posse of 100 men, and swept down on Morehead, where Tolliver and his followers were. Rumors of the sheriff's coming had been circulated, but Tolliver confident of his own power, was not afraid and determined to resist agreet. Then a cordon was formed around Morehead, and slowly the posse closed in. Tolliver and ton of his followers barricaded themselves in the Cottage Hotel and quietly awaited the on-slaught. The posse drew near, and the Sheriff notified Tolliver to submit to the law. Tolliver swore that a hundred men could not take him, and fired his Winchester.
A volley from the posse followed immediately, and then the battle began.
The killed up to the present grand finale in the famous Tolliver-Martin feud are as fol-

After firing had been kept up for probably three-quarters of an hour, the Tolliver men attempted to leave the hotel and cross the rallroad to another hotel on the opposite side. While making this foolbardy attempt the notorious leader of the gang, which habeen such a terror to Rowan county, fell t the ground pierced by four balls from the deadly Winchesters of the ambushed possa, two of the bullets going through his head and two through his breast. The others got to the opposite house and fought the posse for some time, but, finding the place less secure than they had expected, they made an attenut to pregress the relief they had expected. attempt to recross the railroad to their old position. In this they were unsuccessful, for all three of them fell riddled with rifle balls. After ascertaining that no more resistance would be oftered, the posse picked up the dead men and placed them on the floor of the porch of the Cottage hotel. Investigation showed that only one of the Shoriff's posse was wounded, and that was Dr. Brown, who received an ugly flesh wound in the thigh. The fighting was kept up for two hours. During the firing the utmost consternation prevailed among the women and children, who ran from their houses and provided to the days the construction. houses and rushed to the depot, hoping thereby to escape the bullets.

The posso was composed of the best men in Rowan county. They appeared to be hard-working farmers, and were all sober, earn-est-looking men. Everybody in Morehead soems glad the Tollivers are exterminated and people will now breathe freer.

New Orleans, La., June 23.—Dr. M. A Vernado, aged 50, a prominent dentist and justice of the peace in the 1st ward, Tangi pahoa parish, was on Monday shot and in stantly killed by L. R. Draughn, aged 58, a well-known citizen. From the account furnished by Sheriff Mix it appears that Draughn and his victim, who had been good friends for many years, quarreled two years ago and have been on but terms since. They had some difficulty, and Draughn was fined recently. He had been indicted for carrying concealed weapons and blamed Vernado for prosecuting him, Monday afternoon they met in front of Draughn's afternoon they met in front of Draughn's grocery store, and, Vernado having declined a treat offered by Draughn, words followed. It is claimed Vernado drew a revolver. Draughn drew his weapon, and, before the former could fire, shot him five times, three bullets taking effect in his heart, one in his shoulder and one in his warr. Vernados shoulder, and one in his wrist. Vernado's death was instantaneous.

A Defalcation in Water Funds. CHICAGO, June 29.—The discovery of a de-falcation in the water office yesterday dwarfed all other topics about the city hall and set three departments of the public service in an uproar. Suspicion pointed to L. Pope, a meter collector. A bill for $1,300 against the Union iron and steel works was given him for collection some time ago. Yesterday he turned this bill into the water office, representing that he was unable to get the money. Suspicion being aroused a mes-senger was dispatched to the rolling-mill office, and there it was declared, and the books showed it, that Pope had been paid the $1,000 May 30 last. Com-missioner of Public Works Switz was at once advised of the discovery, and examination showed that Pope's shortage would amount to probably $5,000 or $6,000. An attempt to arrest Pope at his residence was made but the man could not be found, although he had been seen in the city within a few hours.

LIABILITIES OF THE FIDELITY BANK REACH THAT SUM.

Where the Money Went-Lead Pencil Memoranda for a Million-The Comptroller's Orders.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 23.—As the exam ination of the Fidelity National bank pro-ceeds the cavernous deficit increases. It is now the common talk on the streets that the now the common tank of the structure of the structure of the bank will reach the structure of the structure abilities of the bank will reach the stu-

s still talk of more arrests. Comptroller Trenholm has telegraphed from Washington general instructions to Bank-Examiner Powell, who is in charge of the bank. He is directed to receive all pay-ments tendered him and push collections of overdrafts and and maturing paper, but to overdrafts and and maturing paper, but to pay out nothing that was in the bank at the time of failure. Paper maturing and not paid must be protested, and no checks or offsets are to be allowed. In fact, nothing is to be done that can await the appointment of a receiver. Remittances to the bank by 50, 60, 70, 75, 80, 40 mail, and collections made by the examiner for account of parties not indebted to the bank and unmatured paper held for collections.

The proof of the p But when the inquiry was made as to how much would be required, the answer was $1,000,000 at least. That staggered the directors and although they still hoped to form a reorganization it is most probable that the fear that a further form a reorganization it is most probable that the fear that a further examinanation would roveal a further deficit deterred them. The fact is that Harper concealed from the directors his connection with the wheat deal. He is said to have admitted yesterday that he did not go into the wheat deal himself, but that he honored an overdraft from a member of the clique. This draft, Harper says, was for $45,000 and was drawn by Wiltshire. Harper charges the whole break to the action of the Chicago Board of Trade in making all wheat regular.

in making all wheat regular.

Mr. Eugeno Powell, the bank examiner, to credited with saying that the condition of the bank is worful. He said it was singular than the control of the bank is worful. how Harper had deceived overybody about the matter. In this connection it may be recalled that when the wheat panic occurred recalled that when the wheat panic occurred in Chicago, and rumors were out of a run on the Fidelity bank, Mr. Harper stated repeatedly to parties asking for information that he did not know who was in the wheat deal, and he went so far as to say that he did not believe that it was managed at all in Cincinnati, but was conducted from California and Clevoland. More attachments upon Harper's property have been made, and overything he has is now tied up.

navo been made, and everyaming he has is now tied up.
Harper, Baldwin, and Hopkins, vice presi-dent, cashier, and assistant cashier respec-tive of the Fidelity National bank, have been rearrested on a new charge. The charge upon which they were arrested this time is that they conspired to defraud in issuing large drafts to the amount of $600,000 for investment in the Chicago wheat deal, and in making false returns to the United States making false returns to the United Statos Comptroller of Currency. The trio appeared before United States Commissioner Hooper, waived examination, and were bound over to the grand jury. Harper's bail under this arrest was fixed at $15,000, and that of Baldwin and Hopkins at $5,000 each. H. B. Morehead is the only bondsman thus far offered, and he only went bail for Harper, It looks much as if the prisoners would have to be jailed. Joseph Josephs, a creditor of E. L. Harper to the extent of $19,000, has replevined Swift's Iron and Steel Works, Newport, which were yesterday assigned by E. L. Harper.

N. C., named Hoover, had been strring up strife and trying to organize the negroes under the style of "Co-Operative Workers of America," to carry out their bloody work. The affair will probably blow over without further expenditure of terrifying telegrams. Hoover, who is at the bottom of the trouble, is the same man that was mobbed near Milledgeville, Ga., about a month ago for incendiary talk to the negroes in that section. He was operating among the negroes incendury talk to the negross in that we tion. He was operating among the negroes in the upper part of the State last winter, and organized several lodges of the "Co-Operative Workers of America." He is the president. A Steal in Pauper Burials.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 23.—For some weeks past the township trustee has been quietly investigating the burial of paupers by Ripley & Hedges, the contractors for the county, and now the evidence taken is given to the public. In ten cases cited in the report the relatives were able to bury the decased, and the firm collected the price of a "respectable funeral" from them, and also charged the county the contract price. In other instances the burials were reported and payment collected from the courts without performing any service whatever, other firms doing the work and being paid by the relatives. The firm of Ripley & Hedges is one of the oldest in the city, and is doing a good business. Prosecutions will be entered against them at once. Jubilee Echoes. "No, but you come to my house some time and stay a week and I'll play with you every day."
That old German neglected his plowing.

An Eccentric Will.

Probably the most remarkable will ever made was drawn up by Alderman Hartman of Pittsburg, on Thursday Feb. 17, 1887. The testator, Ambrose Retharge, who is 52 years of age, after disposing of $10,000 in real estate, directs as follows: "I direct that my body be taken to St. Michael's church, and, after the proper religious services are performed, that it be given in charge of my tamily, who will convey it to Samson's crematory and there have it burned to ashes, the ashes to be put in a small bottle and given in charge of the the contents to the four winds of heaven. I direct, also, while this ceremony is being performed, that it be witnessed by all passengers on board. After the Elbe has completed her trip and returned again to New York, I want a full statement of my death and the scattering of my ashes in mid-ocean published in the Pittsburg papers, so that my friends in this city shall know my burial place."

The most sparing and economical of the millionaires in regard to diet is Russell Sage. His breakfast consists of a bowl of catment and a control of the control In the present at consists of a bown of outlinear and milk, two slices of bread and a cup of tea. Winter or summer, Mr. Sage never varies in this respect. For lunch he sometimes buys two erullers from old "Knty," who keeps a lunch stand in front of Mr. Sage's office, but more frequently a one cent apple suffices the cravings of his appetite.

At dinner Mr. Sage is equally abstemious.
He is a great lover of fish, especially of fresh salmon, and is extravagant only on this point.

Plain roust or mutton, topped off by bread pudding or a banana, completes the dinner of the millionaire.
